MULTIMEDIA PRODUCER

about me

Hi, I'm Pedro Gomes born in Madeira Island, Portugal. Driven by a lifelong passion for technology, I taught myself how to code from an early age, later going on to study and learn everything related to multimedia creation and production. Throughout the years I have gained some experience from volunteering in small companies during academic breaks and part-time jobs in larger companies where I collaborated / carried out projects and works in the area of Design and Multimedia. I also attended some complementary courses in Photoshop, Illustrator and 3D Studio Max.

Having completed my education and worked on several independent projects, I now feel able to take on any challenge, whether it's video production, broadcasting, photography, web development, programming or design.
